

Scent Shift

Revolutionizing Brand Identity Through Science-Backed, Personalized Scent Experiences

Executive Summary

Situation

How should Light + Glo and BrandScent allocate their resources to achieve sustainable, scalable growth while managing risks from competition, rising costs, and seasonality?

Solution

Scent Shift

Expand BrandScent's B2B footprint by targeting furniture retail and real-estate sectors through measurable scent experiences

Impacts

$9M AUD Incremental Revenue By Year 5	3.7x ROI By Year 5	177 New Clients By Year 5

Crowded Market Landscape with Emerging Growth Opportunities

Competition Overview

1. International luxury brands dominate Australia's premium fragrance and gifting market
2. Local boutique candle makers crowd the mid-range eco-lifestyle segment
3. Global scent-marketing firms are expanding into Australia's experiential branding space

Rapid Consumer Purchasing

Australian Candle Market projected to reach $959M by 2033

Growing Demand for Experiential Branding

Brands increasingly invest in multisensory experiences making scents the key to customer retention

No Emphasis on B2B Personalization

Companies outsource their fragrances despite high demand because most scent companies focus on selling directly to the consumer

Key Challenges That Must Be Solved for Sustainable Growth

Competition

Rapidly growing candle market flooded with imported and local brands, making differentiation and brand recall increasingly difficult

High Costs

Rising Australian labor and rent costs reduce profitability, as Light + Glo's semi-manual production remains less efficient than overseas competitors

Seasonality

Heavy dependence on Christmas and gifting seasons creates unstable cash flow and limits year-round demand consistency

Evaluating Strategic Paths: Why Pivoting to BrandScent Delivers Sustainable Expansion

	Expand Light + Glo Internationally (Asia & Europe)		High logistics and labor costs limit scalability, while competing with global luxury brands dilutes Light + Glo's local advantage
	Deepen Domestic Presence for Light + Glo		Australia's candle market is saturated, with stagnant growth and limited differentiation despite high marketing investment
	Pivot Resources into BrandScent		BrandScent offers higher margins, lower seasonality, and scalable B2B growth through science-backed, personalized scent branding

Why Focus on BrandScent?

Differentiates from Competition Through Personalization

Avoids High Costs of Rent and Candle-Maker Wages

Low Seasonality as Contracts are Recurring every Month

Our Strategic Approach to Scaling BrandScent's B2B Growth

Our Strategy: "Scent Shift" — Driving Awareness and Adoption

Client Identification

Isolating Industries for Client Outreach

BrandScent Needs to Move Beyond Over-Saturated Industries

Industry

Metrics Considered for Prioritization

Competition

Already developed a brand scent that customers recognize

Major scent marketing companies already dominate the industry

Demand for Unique Fragrance

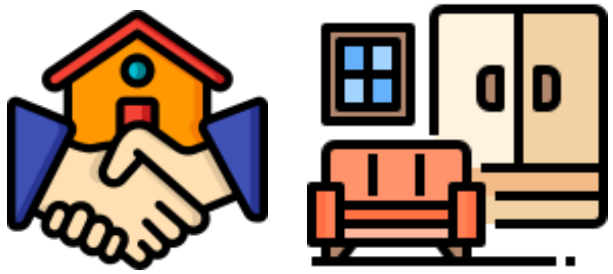

Scent can shape brand identity or trust due to the importance of emotional appeal

Scent has measurable impact on sales, experience quality, or dwell time

BrandScent should target the Real Estate Brokerage and Furniture Retail Industries

Key Insight

By targeting people driven businesses, scents will help increase purchases from customers by positively effecting their emotions and feelings

Why does this work for you?

- Clear KPIs to track and ensure effectiveness
- Unsaturated market for scent usage
- Lots of foot traffic to ensure enough customers

Why does this work for your clients?

- Lots of emotions attached to purchasing power
- Stores can utilize environment immersions
- Extended dwell time within these areas

There is an opportunity to move into industries besides the real estate and furniture retail industry, but theses are ideal starting points

Understanding the Real Estate Brokerage Industry

Real Estate Brokerage Market

1. Residential values reached A$11.6 trillion by Q2 2025, over four times Australia's annual GDP [1]
2. In 2025, Ray White led the Real Estate Services industry with A$1,943.9 million in revenue [2]
3. The real estate industry generated A$12.1 billion in revenue in FY 2024–25 [2]

Source: 1 realestate.com.au, 2 IBIS World

Why This Works

Scents help create the environmental immersion that drives purchasing power

Scents transform feelings towards how comfortable customers feel in a house

Real Estate being a people-driven industry allows for referrals and word of mouth

Potential Clients

Understanding the Furniture Retail Industry

Furniture Retail Market

1. The Australian furniture retail sector generated A$12.6 billion in revenue in 2025 [1]
2. Provincial Home Living achieved A$133.3 million in revenue in 2024 across 35 superstores [2]
3. The Australian furniture retail industry operated 3,181 businesses in 2025 [1]

Source: 1 IBIS World, 2 Zoom Info

Why This Works

Furniture stores have a small buy window, allow scents to be extremely effective

People repeatably buy furniture, making the stores repeatable settings

Purchases are based on customer emotions and gut feeling of if they want the product

Overcoming Skepticism Through Live Experiments at Expos and Conferences

Live Experiment on the Importance of Scent

Attendees blind-test three scent environments…

…with one environment being a distinct scent from a brand…

… ask them how they felt and if they recognized it.

Follow Through Using Brand Storytelling

Share real client stories:
“Melbourne Skydeck used a sweet bakery scent, which caused sales to rise 40 percent in three months.”

Present the scent as an ownable brand element:
“Generic scents are nice, but creating your own makes you unforgettable.”

BrandScent Revenue Proof of Concept

"The sense of smell is the most powerful of the five senses. The idea for BrandScent came from recognising the untapped potential of scent in branding and the need to niche down in what is a very saturated market of scented fragrance products.

"We realised that while visuals and sounds were being used to shape brand identities, scent was often overlooked despite its powerful impact on memory and emotions. We wanted to change th by helping businesses create unique scent identities that resonate with their customers on a deeper level.

"This strategic pivot has opened up partnerships with major brands like American Express, Mimo Homes, Chandon and Arnott's, significantly boosting our profile and revenue."

The two brands, which initially started with just the founder duo, have now grown to a team of 1 employees.

"While we keep our team lean to maintain agility, each member brings invaluable expertise to the table," Suji tells SmartCompany.

BrandScent has grown from $120,000 in revenue in the 2020-2021 financial year, to a projected $1.9 million in the 2024-2025 financial year.

"F22/23 is really where it began as events, spaces and retail opened up in Victoria [after Covid lockdowns] and especially metro Melbourne where we are based," she shares.

Furniture Retailing in Australia industry analysis

Australia's furniture retailing landscape has been through a lot recently, but signs are pointing towards greater stability. Profitability swelled during the pandemic as demand surged, then faded as trading conditions normalised and cost pressures reasserted themselves. ABS data shows that spending on furniture, floor coverings, housewares and textile goods rose 2.7% in the year to June 2025 after a 3.6% slide the year before, while Harvey Norman reported a 4.0% sales lift for the six months ending December 2024. The online shift keeps accelerating, aided by pay-later services like Afterpay and Zip Pay, even as retailers wrestle with higher input costs and a tension between imported and locally sourced goods. Industry revenue is expected to tumble at an annualised 1.6% over the five years through 2025-26, to $12.6 billion. This includes an anticipated upswing of 2.5% in the current year, owing to improving discretionary income and consumer sentiment.

TRENDS AND INSIGHTS :

- Interest rate fluctuations continue to drive demand for furniture. When rates rise, discretionary income shrinks, but pay-later options and rate cuts in 2025 have helped stabilise spending and renew demand for furniture.

Getting Involved at AIFF and AREC

Australian International Furniture Fair (AIFF)

•Exhibitor Participation: BrandScent can secure a booth and present its scent marketing systems and custom fragrance solutions directly to trade professionals, including retailers, commercial buyers, designers, and architects.

•How to Get Involved: To exhibit, BrandScent should apply via the official AIFF website by completing the exhibitor registration form, after which the event team will contact them about booth selection, requirements, and event partnership options.

•Opportunities at AIFF:

- Demonstrate the impact of scent on retail and showroom experiences.
- Network with business owners, designers, and buyers.

AREC (Australasian Real Estate Conference)

•Exhibitor & Partner Options: AREC offers exhibition spaces for service providers supporting the real estate industry. BrandScent can book a stand, where it can engage directly with real estate principals, agents, and business decision-makers.

•How to Get Involved: Registration for exhibitors and stand information is managed via the AREC conference website, where application packages are detailed. BrandScent will need to demonstrate its relevance for the property sector—showcasing how scent marketing enhances open home events, agency offices, and client experiences.

•Event Engagement:

- Use a branded or interactive booth to let agents experience scent marketing firsthand.
- Network with top franchisors, agency groups, and marketing consultants.

Effectiveness of Expos and Conferences

60% of AIFF and similar expo exhibitors report closing at least one significant new account traced directly to a show meeting or demo (aiff.net)

Exhibitors at AIFF (Décor + Design section) typically report connecting with 200-400 qualified buyers and business contacts over a 2-3 day event
